TAFT IN FAVOR OF ANNEXATION OF OAKLAND, BERKELEY AND ALAMEDA

President Taft is in favor of the annexation of Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda. In his speech at Lake Merritt this morning he said:

"In Minnesota there are two great cities, each for itself, but rapidly growing towards each other. I suggested to them the idea of one great city formed of two boroughs.

"Here we have three beautiful cities. It is unnecessary for me to say which is the most important or has the most inhabitants and which should lead towards the union of them all.

"The next time I come here I hope you will have the common sense, enterprise and determination to make one great city on this side of the San Francisco Bay."

The President's appearance upon the platform surrounded and attended by the members of the Oakland reception committee was the signal for a hearty greeting from the vast concourse of people that gathered about for blocks. But the applause was as a rattle of musketry compared to the mighty roar of cheering that welled up from that vast crowd when Mayor Frank K. Mott closed his preliminary address with the words: "The President of the United States."

The pent-up patriotism of the assemblage broke forth in a tremendous shout of greeting that continued for several minutes. In the midst of this limb of a tree near the platform, on which were seated several urchins anxious to see the President at close quarters, broke and precipitated the youngsters down on the heads of the crowd below.

The President turned toward the scene of the accident and anxiously asked: "Anybody hurt?"

Upon being assured by a police officer that the boys had escaped injury he turned toward the front and remarked laughingly: "They have a saying that the Lord looks after drunken men, boys and the United States."

Then bowing to the assemblage on the stage and to the crowd gathered about the stand, the President said:

"Mr. Mayor, Governor Gillett, Ladies and Gentlemen of Oakland: It is impossible for the human voice to reach the ears of this vast concourse of people. The chorus on the trees referring to the enthusiastic cheering small boys seated in the branches that accompanied me I hope will be harmonious and melodious. When we were in Berkeley this morning they told us that the sun shone on the Pacific coast and it remains for Oakland to make that promise good.

"When I was in Minnesota, they have two great cities that are each for themselves but rapidly growing towards each other. I suggested that they should come together as one great city with two boroughs. You have three beautiful cities here. It is unnecessary for me to say which is the most important and has the most inhabitants and which should lead towards a union of all three. The next time I visit you I hope you will show the common sense, the enterprise and determination to make one great city on this side of the San Francisco Bay."

"Oakland is to the forefront in improving its harbor and you have voted bonds toward that end and have gone ahead to do for yourselves what other cities wait for the United States to do. To this you have to bond yourself and you have to do is to annex a little territory on that side (pointing toward Berkeley) and a little territory on that side (pointing toward Alameda) to help you pay the bonds."

PREDICTS GREATER OAKLAND.

"Alameda and Berkeley would like to hear on his proposition, but I promise you that you will come together and I will not leave the town — It is best for a stranger not to mix in these things but to swim out from them."

I am glad to see you take an interest in your water front. The committee on appropriations feels that this vast expense of improvements should be shared by the communities that have special

Professor Irving Stringham, Acting President of the University of California, Dies

Over Berkeley's rejoicing through the visit of President Taft, a heavy gloom was cast over the college town and the University of California by the somewhat sudden death of Professor Irving Stringham, dear, of the faculty in the university and acting head of the institution in the absence of President Benjamin F. D. Wheeler, early this morning.

His death came as a terrible shock to the residents of Berkeley and particularly to those identified with the university, to whom Professor Stringham was attached for the last twenty-seven years. He was to have received Taft on behalf of the University of California.

Professor Stringham died at 6 o'clock this morning in Alta Bates sanatorium from uremic poisoning. He had been ill for about a month, but a week ago he was reported much better and returned to his duties at the university. He was attended by Doctors Moffitt, Burnham and Terry. In the university he was head of the department of mathematics.

SURVIVED BY FAMILY.

He is survived by a widow, Martha Day Stringham, and three children: Harriet Day Stringham, Martha Sherman Stringham and Roland Irving Stringham, by a sister, Mrs. A. E. Sexton of Topeka, Kas., and by a nephew, F. D. Stringham, city attorney of Berkeley.

The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at his late residence, 2250 Prospect street, at 2 o'clock. The Rev. Edward L. Parson, rector of St. Mark's Episcopal Church of Berkeley will conduct the services. Interment will be private.

WELL KNOWN EDUCATOR.

Professor Stringham was born December 10, 1847. He was graduated from Harvard University in 1877, and took a postgraduate course at Johns Hopkins University, after which, in 1880 he went to Leipzig, where he remained until 1882. In that year he was elected to the head of the department of mathematics in the University of California, in which capacity he served to the time of his death.

Professor Stringham was a member of the American Mathematical Society, of which he was at one time an officer.

He contributed freely during his life to various mathematical journals, and had written several books on mathematics, among which an algebra is in general use in the high schools of the State.

OAKLAND'S RECEPTION TO PRESIDENT TAFT
IS COMPLETE SUCCESS
All of Alameda County Joins in Making His Visit Here Most Memorable One

Oakland, gem city of the east bay region, and Berkeley, seat of culture and higher education in the Golden State, both communities fanned the country over for their enchanting environments, their enterprise and progress in their respective lines of endeavor, and their patriotism and unbounded hospitality, paid fitting homage this morning to the First Gentleman of the Land.

The outpouring of people to greet President William Howard Taft was something tremendous, none the less inspiring being the enthusiastic ovation that the multitudes gave to the chief executive of the Nation. From the moment that he first set foot upon Alameda County soil early in the morning until he boarded the revenue cutter Golden Gate at the foot of Broadway, about noon, he was completely in the hands of the people.

President Pleased by Oakland's Reception

Nobody enjoyed the magnificent reception more than did the President. Wherever he appeared his ruddy face beamed good-fellowship and simple democracy upon the throngs that hedged about him. That famous "Taft smile" was present, too, in copious volume, and seemed to bring the exalted statesman right down beside every person who came within its range.

Along the entire route he traveled the President was kept busy doffing his high hat in reply to the salutations, which were rendered more effective and spectacular by the myriads of little flags that the walls of humanity waved towards the distinguished visitor.

And the street decorations were in strict accord with the spirit of the occasion. Old Glory and bunting of the national colors were in evidence everywhere. Never have the thoroughfares of Oakland presented such a patriotic aspect as that which met the President's eyes. The line of march from the Berkeley boundary to the foot of Broadway was resplendent with red, white and blue.

Veritable Bowers of Flags and Bunting

The Key Route Inn and the picturesque grand stand at Lake Merritt were veritable bowers of flags and bunting. At every turn the President took mental note of the preparations and his gratification was apparent.

"Isn't this splendid!" Mr. Taft was heard to remark to Governor Gillett, as they alighted at the Key Route Inn. "I would not have missed this morning for anything in the world. Here, all about me, is California's boasted hospitality exemplified. I am very grateful to the people who have gone to so much trouble for me," and the bulk of the White House shook with visible emotion.

The reception to the President at the Hearst Greek Theater on the University grounds was an animated scene, as was also that in the Key Route Inn Garden and at the Lake Merritt stand. While the welcome was strictly civic in its principal features, there was a display of just enough of the military to lend enchantment to the spectacle. The troops were resplendent in their dress uniforms and, together with the police, formed an attractive escort to the President as he moved from place to place.

OVER 200,000 PEOPLE PRESENT.

It is no exaggeration to say that over 200,000 people turned out in Oakland and Berkeley to see the President. Alameda county has never contributed such a tremendous outpouring of people at any public event as gathered to honor the head of the nation. The visitors from the interior were legion and the streets and windows all along the line of march were jammed with good-natured humanity eager to get a glimpse of the guest of honor and contribute its individual share to the reception. Politics and party affiliations were buried deep under the popular demonstration. It was simply "Our President—Big Bill Taft!"—whom the people were bent on honoring.

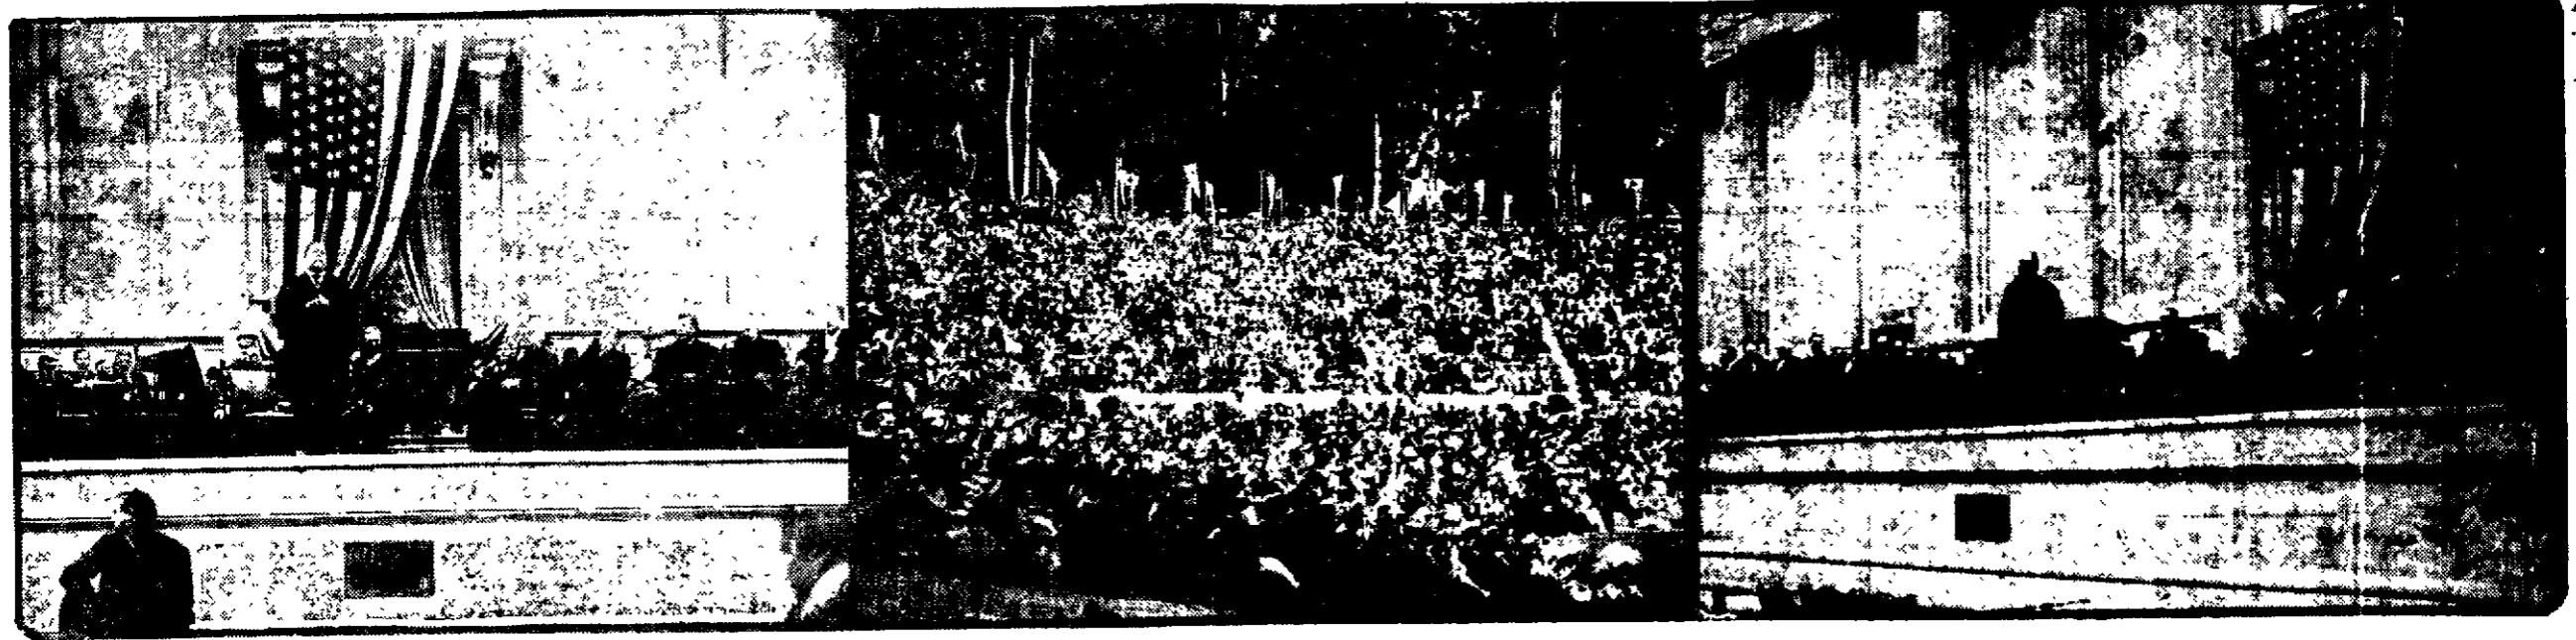

For this reason everybody was happy and not an incident of the most trifling nature occurred to mar the events of the morning. President Taft's person was never more secure than while he was the guest of the people on the east shore of San Francisco and although the extensive police protection that was given to the head of the Nation was necessary, it might have been eliminated altogether so far as the safety of Mr. Taft was concerned.

PLenty of GOOD MUSIC.

There was plenty of good music during the reception to enliven the festivities, especially at the Greek Theater, where the famous Philippine Constabulary band rendered a program of patriotic airs. This band is a pet of the President. It was through his instrumentality while he was in the Philippines that the band was formed.

The din was terrific. It continued until the Golden Gate passed far out into the Pacific. The band was a pet of the President. It was through his instrumentality while he was the civil governor of the Philippines Islands that the band was formed.

GOVERNMENT'S STANDARD DUE TO THE UNIVERSITIES Higher Education Showing Its Hand in Science of Ruling Great Nations, Declares the President

President William H. Taft in his address at the Hearst Greek Theater, University of California, this morning declared that the present high standard of government in the United States was largely due to the university professors and theoretical critics. He spoke of the theories of these critics and political economists as of the utmost value in reaching still higher standards.

The President said:

"Mr. Mayor, Professor Moses, Ladies and Gentlemen: I did not arrange my entire itinerary; I have had something else to do during the summer. But one thing I did insist upon was that when I came to California I should visit Berkeley.

"I remember Berkeley well. The temperature this morning does not exactly accord with the temperature as I before experienced it, but I can bear witness to the fact that at times the sun does shine here; and the people who greeted the Philippine Commission here several years ago will bear me out."

THOUSANDS ON HAND EARLY TO GAIN POINTS OF VANTAGE

Long before daylight this morning people from every part of Alameda county, many of them carrying breakfast at fresco with them, thronged the stone seats of the Greek Theater in Berkeley and before the President arrived at 7 o'clock the enormous amphitheater was packed with a mass of eager humanity.

Old ladies brought cushions and blankets, and along the broad benches at the top of the rising tiers of seats, a coterie of mothers fed babies in go-carts with milk heated on little alcohol lamps while they waited.

Sandwiches and hot coffee in bottles were much in evidence and many spectators sat for four and five hours on the damp cement seats before the arrival of the nation's chief executive was announced by a corps of immaculately clad cadets who lined up in military order in front of the speaker's platform just as Taft and escort arrived.

The smile which made such a slogan during the campaign when President Taft was before the people of the country was never better illustrated than when he rode past the line of veterans who were drawn up on Washington street near Twelfth. With the veterans was a drum corps and the roll of their music, mingled with the enthusiasm of the old fighters as they waved a salute which lost its military precision in its warmth.

"Good boys, Good boys," said the President and his head bowed and his hat waved up and down in salute. "Hurrah for the President," shouted the old soldiers.

And the crowd caught the beauty of the situation and added to the noise.

GOV. GILLET SITS BESIDE PRESIDENT IN GREEK THEATER

On the stage of the Greek Theater in Berkeley there was a gathering of distinguished men to greet the President. In addition to Governor Gillett there were Senator George C. Perkins, Congressman Knowland and others. The arrangement at the front of the stage placed the Governor next to the President, with Professor Bernard Moses, who represented the University of California, next to the Governor, and Mayor Beverly L. Hodges seated next to Professor Moses, Lieutenant Governor Warren R. Porter was on the platform and others in the front row were Captain Butt, John Hayes Hammond, Hon. Victor H. Metcalf, Hon. Beckman Winthrop, Mr. Fort, Dr. Richards, W. W. Mischler, E. E. Calvin, Charles S. Fee, W. R. Scott and members of the committee.

PRaises UNIVERSITY.

"It is a great pleasure for me to be here and to be received in the eloquent words of your mayor. But it was not necessary for him to tell me of the hills and the natural beauties which abound hereabouts; I could have caught the poetry of nature from his eloquent flow of words.

"It is a great pleasure for me to be here in this theater and to talk to the people who have done so much to advance the science of government to its present high standard. Professor Moses says very truly that the professor and the theorist is becoming more closely associated with the science of government; that formerly they were considered as mere dreamers. But universities such as this are coming to figure more and more in the science of government and the course of parties.

NOT AN EASY TASK.

"The business of directing a government is not an easy one—when we are in it. It has a somewhat different aspect when you are engaged in pulling the throttle or putting on the brakes from that which is placed upon it from the professor's chair or the editorial sanctum."

President Taft spoke of the obstacles which stand in the way of carrying out certain policies and continued:

"These obstacles are not always apparent to those who do not have an intimate knowledge of the situations. None the less the high standard set by those critics are of the utmost importance in the uplift of the standards of the government and the uplift of the people.

"The resultant, from following our inspirations to higher things, and which being complicated with the practical things, modifies or qualifies our ideals for practical results, is after all progress."

"I like to affirm that I am an optimist—and an optimist with respect to popular government. If not I would not enjoy the prospect of being in the business of government. Sometimes we have to give way to the voice of the people. Not infrequently years after it transpires that on the whole the result reached by the compilation of all the views of all the people is far better than if we had followed the will or the theory of any one person.

"Popular government is justified on the theory that any class is better able to know what its interests are, and better able to look after those interests than any other class, no matter how altruistic that class may be.

"That being the theory, and it being admitted that no one class can give out all for all—he is a good citizen who when his own opinion is not what the majority theorizes, makes himself a good loser.

"He must play the game. He must follow the popular trend; he must play ball and follow them.

"Your honorable and eloquent mayor said that I only intended to say a few words. Huh!"

The smile which made such a slogan during the campaign when President Taft was before the people of the country was never better illustrated than when he rode past the line of veterans who were drawn up on Washington street near Twelfth. With the veterans was a drum corps and the roll of their music, mingled with the enthusiasm of the old fighters as they waved a salute which lost its military precision in its warmth.

STARTS WITH GREETING TO FRATERNITY BROTHERS

Thousands in College City Cheer Taft as

Beaming with the now famous smile, William Howard Taft, President of the United States, stepped from a special train at the Berkeley station promptly at 8 o'clock this morning. As he emerged from the rear of his car, which had been backed into the station, thousands of voices went up in one mighty cheer. The chief executive was introduced to the Berkeley reception committee and was heartily welcomed by them.

The automobile to convey the President to the Hearst Greek theater was drawn up close to the steps of the special car and but little time was lost in getting the parade under way. In the first automobile with the distinguished guest were Governor James N. Gil

Smiles, Waves Hand and Then Smiles Some More As Crowds Cheer Him Continuously

Preceded by a troop of cavalry and amid noisy cheers, President Taft crossed the Berkeley line into Oakland just a few minutes before the time scheduled.

Two special cars, decorated with the national colors, were in waiting to convey the presidential party to the Key Route Inn, where a reception of five minutes was held.

Oakland citizens who greeted Taft at the border line of this city were Edson Adams, vice-chairman of the committee for the reception of the President; I. H. Clay, C. E. Snook, W. R. Davis and George W. Reed. The reception itself was of the most informal order.

With the President in the first car were Senator Perkins, Congressman Knowland, Supreme Justice Melvin, United States Circuit Court Judge Morrow, Governor Gillett, Mayor B. L. Hodghead of Berkeley, Anson S. Blake and others.

In the second car forming the party were Sterling Campbell, collector of customs at Eureka; E. C. Cooper, private secretary to Governor Gillett; G. B. Olchtree, Friend W. Richardson, Duncan McDuffy, L. H. Lewars, Charles Spear and others.

At a given signal both special cars started for Oakland proper. The President's car was in the charge of Motorman W. M. East and Conductor Harry Seybold. The second car was in charge of C. A. Rhea, conductor, and C. Lemmon, motorman. Superintendent Potter took personal supervision of the trip which was made without incident.

GUARD OF CAVALRY.

Troop G of the Fourteenth Cavalry kept pace with the President's car, keeping sharp lookout for the safety of the Nation's Chief Executive. Those who happened to get too close to the presidential car in their eagerness were reminded by a gentle touch with the sabre that their place was near the sidewalk. One or two strong headed individuals were further reminded to keep a safe distance by being touched with the sharp point of the cavalry weapons.

During the trip to the Key Route Inn a characteristic incident took place, showing that the President is a good fellow.

Captain of Police Bock, who was in charge of the police arrangements of the President's car, passed through. President Taft reached out his hand and grasped that of the police captain.

"How are you, captain?" inquired the President.

Preceding the President's car was Captain of Detectives Petersen in an automobile and Chief of Police Vollmer of Berkeley with a force of policemen and secret service men. The line was kept cleared and without a stop the car arrived at the Key Route Inn, where two battalions of marines and one battalion of infantry were drawn up on either side of the street. The military band broke into the strains of the Star Spangled Banner. The vast crowd which had congregated to see the President uncovered their heads and cheered. Mr. Taft responded by waving his hand and turning on the multitude his broad smile. The reception was very cordial and the President seemed pleased.

Inside of the Key Route station the reception committee from Oakland was assembled to greet the Chief Executive. As President Taft stepped from the car he was accorded another noisy welcome. All of the windows of the hotel were jammed with cheering persons as well as all of the space in the immediate vicinity.

"GLAD TO GET HERE."

President Taft made his way rapidly to the appointed reception place and greeted Mayor Mott cordially.

"Mr. Mayor, I am glad to meet you," he said, extending his hand in greeting.

"I am glad to welcome you to Oakland," replied Mayor Mott, "on behalf of a loyal people."

"I thank you very sincerely," replied the President.

President Taft then saw Congressman Hayes. He stepped forward briskly with the salutation of "Hello, Hayes."

The President shook the Congressman's hand with undisguised cordiality and then turned to meet the members of the reception committee who were in turn presented to the President by Mayor Mott.

With each introduction the President gave a smile and comment. Postmaster Paul Schaffer, Collector of the Port Stratton, W. E. Darbie, Victor Metcalf, M. J. Layman, Frank Bilger, Charles Heeseman and the other members of the committee were presented in turn.

Former Secretary of the Navy Metcalf and President Taft exchanged a few words of friendly greeting.

"How are you standing it?" inquired Mr. Metcalf.

"I am a little tired," replied the President, but immediately banished the impression he conveyed by one of his smiles.

After the reception concluded, which did not take more than five minutes, President Taft was escorted to his carriage and started on the parade of the streets of the city. With the President in the first carriage were Governor Gillett, Mayor Mott and Captain Butt of the United States navy.

MAYOR INTRODUCES THE PRESIDENT TO GREAT ASSEMBLAGE

In introducing the President Mayor Mott said:

"Ladies and Gentlemen: Oakland and Alameda county is honored by the visit of a man who occupies the most dignified position in all the world—the chief magistrate of the most prosperous nation on the face of the earth. We come here to greet him, not only in his official capacity, but in his personal relation—the President of the United States."

READY FOR TAFT ACROSS THE BAY

Streets Decorated and Hundreds of Police Guard Line of Taft's Travels.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5.—San Francisco has taken on a festive gash to greet President Taft. The numerous buildings along the line of march have in most instances been decorated and merchants busied themselves in the early morning hours with preparing their houses to greet the nation's chief executive. Most of the large concerns have declared a holiday for the greater part of the afternoon in order to permit their employees to witness the parade which is the main feature of today's program as far as the general populace is concerned.

For hours before the arrival of the President, long lines of spectators crowded the streets and pressed up against the roped enclosure, which was carefully guarded by large squadrons of special escort and company of mounted officers taking part in the procession, the entire police force of the city to the extent of some seven hundred and fifty men, were actually doing duty on the streets, and carefully watching the crowd to quell any disturbances and to make sure that the passage of President Taft would not be marred by any untoward incident.

The school children who lined Van Ness avenue several hours in advance of the coming of the parade were wild with enthusiasm and anticipation of the coming of the great man. As every minute of the President's time is being taken up during his short stay in this city, a police detail has been placed on the streets over which he will pass in his trip from the St. Francis to the Fairmont hotel, and in his other short journeys from place to place.

WOMAN FAINTS IN CROWD IN FRONT OF SPEAKER'S STAND

Mrs. Martin Medwin, an Eastern woman, who is staying at the Hotel St. Mary in this city, fainted in the crowd in front of the speakers' stand at Thirteenth and Fallon streets just as President Taft began his address this morning. In the slight confusion which followed the woman was carried through the throng, but it was some time before she revived sufficiently to give her name and address. Mrs. Medwin has been ill and in the crush she was overcome.

PROFESSOR MOSES EXTENDS WELCOME

Greets President on Behalf of University Faculty and Students

Because of the illness and death of Professor Irving Stringham, acting president of the University of California, this morning, the address of welcome to President Taft on behalf of the University was made by Professor Bernard Moses. As soon as the band had finished playing its three selections and the large assemblage had finished its cheering, Professor Moses stepped forward and extended a hearty welcome on behalf of the faculty and students of the University.

He said that President Taft in his official position is not unlike a college professor. He referred to the President when he was military governor of the Philippines and said that Mr. Taft then had his first class, which numbered some 7,000,000 inhabitants of the islands. Now, he said, the President has an advanced class of almost 90,000,000 persons. He declared that the people of California as well as the country at large had observed the President's stand for good government with much satisfaction.

He called attention to the growth of the University and its interest in the administration of President Taft. He concluded his brief speech with the declaration that he was most happy to have the privilege of welcoming the President on behalf of the University and then introduced Mayor Beverly Hodghead of Berkeley.

HODGHEAD WITTY.

Mayor Hodghead's speech was steeped in oratory and rhetoric. He began by saying that Berkeley was glad to have the honor of welcoming President Taft; doubly so because the people of the college town know of his integrity and high personal qualities and then the speaker launched into a resume of the qualities of California in general and Berkeley in particular. His remarks were saturated with witicism and brought several hearty laughs from the President himself and all the auditors.

He spoke of a great Secretary of State who visited Berkeley several years ago and in his speech to the people of Berkeley said it was common in Europe to say "beyond the Alps lies Italy" and so beyond the Sierras lies California. Mayor Hodghead referred to the bountiful sunshine, the musical waves lapping at our feet and the majestic hills at our back.

The allusion to sunshine and the hills brought out a hearty laugh from the President, for he looked about him and all he saw was a dense fog trying to creep into the amphitheater and even blot the crowd from his view. Another remark that brought a Presidential laugh was, "We raise everything, Mr. President, in this State except Presidents." Then he alluded to the fog and waxed rhetorical when he said:

CONDONES FOG.

"As you go away from Berkeley and observe the fog and the gloom it casts about us all, you may take that, Mr. President, as a sign of our disappointment over the shortness of your stay among us." This amused the President almost as much as the speaker's allusion to the absence of President Benjamin Ide Wheeler when he said that President Wheeler had gone to a foreign land to assist in the enlightenment of the students of that nation.

Wineman Shoots Warring Workman

UKIAH, Cal., Oct. 5.—Charles Massett, a well-known desperado, shot Louis Jola, one of his workmen, to death. Jola had attacked Massett with a knife. The wounded man had hid in the brush and threatened to kill the sheriff and his deputies if anyone attempted to arrest him. The officers finally discovered that Jola did not have any other weapon than a knife, and closed in on him.

Greets President on Behalf of University Faculty and Students

President Taft remonstrated with a guard of special police who endeavored to force back a number of people with cameras anxious to snapshot the chief executive as he entered the speakers' stand at Thirteenth and Fallon streets this morning.

"Let them alone," commanded Taft. "They have the same right as any one else. The occasion is a public one."

The officers fell back and for the space of five minutes the clicking of kodaks could be heard through the crowd as the President posed obligingly before beginning his short address.

GOVERNOR BIDS PRESIDENT WELCOME TO CALIFORNIA

Taft Was in Fine Fettle and Bubbling Over With Good Humor on Trip to Sacramento

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 5.—The President was in the best of humor when he was greeted at the State line by Governor Gillett and bidden a warm welcome to the land of gold and golden fruit.

The greeting took place at Kenney where the governor's car stood on the siding for three hours to await the coming of the Presidential train, which had been delayed from the schedule time.

"Hello, Governor, I'm glad to see you. Come right in, all of you," was the hearty manner in which the President greeted California's Governor and the delegation that accompanied him to bid the nation's chief welcome.

The President had a word of recognition for almost everyone of the party. It was "Hello, Senator," for Senator Perkins, and, "Why, hello, Victor. Well, how are you and aren't you getting a bit embrowned?" for Victor H. Metcalf.

"The TAFT SMILE.

Judge Morrow, who is an old acquaintance of the President, was told that he was "looking younger," and, to sum up all the greeting and hand-shakings, the Taft smile just diffused itself over the landscape.

When a photographer wanted a picture of the President and the Governor and Taft replied: "Why, certainly. Come outside. I was feeling rather lonesome, for I haven't had my photograph taken today, and it's past noon." And as he climbed down the car step he added: "My, but it is fine to be here in the hills and get this mountain air!" And mountain air with the Taft personality added is a rare mixture.

After the photographs were snapped the President had conversed with the various members of the greeting delegation he evinced a yearning to replenish the inner man.

After luncheon the first stop was made at Red Bluff where a big crowd was waiting, and quickly found the way to the rear car, where the Governor introduced "Our President," and Taft said:

"It was very good of your Governor and Lieutenant-Governor and Senator Perkins and the other gentlemen to come to the northern part of your State to welcome me into happy California."

"Hooray for President Taft!" shouted a voice in the rear, and the President replied: "Thank you, sir, but, as I was saying, the truth is, you gentlemen in the West have such an imagination that distance seems little to you; you jump over it so easily."

"Good-bye, Taft," shouted some one in the enthusiastic throng as the train pulled out and the President smiled and waved his hand.

AT RED BLUFF.

At Red Bluff another large crowd was at the depot, with the school children in front, and men and women standing on wagons in the rear.

"This is a great conourse of people," declared the President, after the youngsters in front had given a Yale yell, with a shout for "Taft" at the end. "I'm told that you have an irrigation project here that the Government may complete and make you even richer than you are."

"That's so!" shouted the crowd.

"Then you admit that you are rich, don't you? Well, anyway, you are rich in good health, and you are rich in good humor, and you are rich in good looks. I would rather be a good-humored man than to have lots of money and not be able to smile, wouldn't you?"

"All you seem to need here is water. I hope that this is a dry town. But all I mean by your air is so full of champagne that it intoxicates without leaving any bad feeling the next morning."

And so he went on in a sort of running conversation with the crowd until some one handed over the platform rail two big baskets of fruit.

"From the Chamber of Commerce of Red Bluff," read the President from the tag. "I thank you, gentlemen. I begin to feel like the itinerant preacher who lived by what the neighbors sent in to him. I shall do my best with these, with a proper regard for my avoidants."

CHILDREN SING AND WAVE FLAGS

6000 Berkeley Youngsters Greet Taft on University Football Field

After leaving the Greek Theater in Berkeley the Presidential party entered the football grounds, wherein six thousand pupils of the Berkeley schools were gathered to give to the President a welcome.

Before the bleachers stand and on a rostrum situated on the gridiron, Miss Victoria Hartley, superintendent of music of the Berkeley schools, took her position and directed the singing of the 6000 children.

The President's car stopped on the opposite side of the field during the singing and the President, with a wave of his hat, gave the signal for the outburst of cheering which immediately followed the song. Then the children, rising to their feet, began cheering and waving flags, with which every one had been provided.

The entourage left the ball field at 9:15 o'clock, going down Bowditch street to Durant and thence up Piedmont avenue to the Blake home.

SCORES OF AUTOS.

Scores of automobilists joined in the line of march and on all sides the streets were crowded with pedestrians out to catch a glimpse of the President.

Leaving the Blake home at 9:30 o'clock the party went south along Piedmont avenue to Dwight way, thence onto Warring street, where, in front of the Deaf and Dumb Institute, several hundred children, under the direction of Douglas Keith, principal of the school, gathered to watch the President pass.

From the Institute the entourage passed on down Warring street to Derby and thence into Piedmont avenue, thence over Forest avenue and into Claremont court, emerging from which it crossed Russell street, moved onto the El Camino Real and then circled around the Claremont hills, over the uplands and down Wooley street to College and Alcatraz avenues.

BOARDS SPECIAL.

Here Berkeley relinquished her claim upon the President and the Oakland reception committee, composed of Edson Adams (vice-chairman of the executive committee on the reception), H. C. Capwell, I. H. Clay, C. E. Snook, former Mayor W. R. Davis and George W. Reed.

The party then entrained on two cars, and with a troop of cavalry before and a troop of cavalry behind, the car bearing the President started off down College avenue to the Key Route Inn.

The cavalry guard was dropped at Shafter avenue. The cars sped on down the street, passing Providence Hospital, in which institution such patients as were able were at the windows to see the President pass by.

At Twenty-fourth street the first street flags were placed and then, a few blocks farther, were met the sailors from Goat Island, the Thirtieth United States Infantry and a detachment from the United States Marine Corps.

For several blocks this military ensemble stretched out alongside the car tracks on either side of the street. The lines of soldiers stopped at the Key Route Inn, where a police guard was waiting to receive the President's party.

The two cars rolled into the sheds of the Key Route Inn just one minute and a half late.

COUNT LEO TOLSTOI TAKEN SUDDENLY ILL

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 5.—The health of Count Leo Tolstoi is again extremely poor. He fainted twice after his return to Yasnaya-Polyana from his trip to Moscow. One fainting spell lasted ten minutes. The aged author, after a short hour's rest, was able to undertake a short promenade.

TINY FOLK BASK IN PRESIDENTIAL EMBRACING SMILE

President Taft arose in his carriage to greet the school children who had carried gaily colored flags of this city, as the little ones lined up on Broadway along his line of march this morning.

Most of the children were clad in white and carried gaily colored flags, which they waved as the chief executive passed, and in response Taft bared his head and nodded from side to side delighted the tiny folk with the all-embracing Presidential smile, which is, after all, far more fatherly and kindly than statesmanlike.

Nation's Chief Magistrate Marvelled at the Size of City and Impressed With Its Impudence

Waving his hand, President Taft took his departure from the City of Oakland shortly before noon today. As the United States revenue cutter, the Golden Gate, left its moorings at the foot of Broadway and started on its way across the bay, Taft commented upon the hearty and brilliant receptions that were accorded him in Alameda county.

It was far beyond his expectations.

He said he had never realized before the number of people that were living on this side of the bay and he was a hundred times glad he had made this city one of the principal stopping places in California as it gave him a chance to study for himself the importance of Oakland.

So impressed was he by its growth and increase that he availed himself in his turn at the speaking stand at the foot of Union street and Lake Merritt of the opportunity to put him on record as favoring a greater Oakland and harbor.

The program was carried out without a hitch. Immediately upon the arrival of the presidential carriage at the Broadway dock Taft alighted and, after shaking hands with the large gathering of prominent citizens gathered at the wharf, having a kind and pleasant word for each one, he embarked on the vessel and only to wait a couple of minutes before the fastenings were untied and the revenue cutter was on its way across the bay.

Oakland's Welcome to Taft.

Oakland reflected honor upon itself through the hearty and enthusiastic manner in which its citizens turned out en masse to greet and welcome President Taft on the occasion of his brief visit here today. All along the route of the procession the streets were lined with enthusiastic citizens of all social grades and classes who joined with the tens of thousands of school children to give him a right royal welcome. The waving of countless flags and the fluttering of handkerchiefs and the hearty cheering which rolled along the line expressed the great gratification of the people at seeing the Nation's Chief Executive and the admiration and high esteem in which he is held by them. The President was good to look at, and the delight of the people in getting the opportunity of seeing and greeting him was manifested plainly in the beam of pleasure which spread over every countenance in the vast multitude which had assembled along the line of march and at the point on the shores of Lake Merritt, where the platform had been erected for his formal introduction to the people.

President Taft has occupied the high position to which he was elected for only a few months, but his administration has been marked with such wisdom and conservatism, unqualified evidences of genuine regard for the public interests, and friendship for the wage-earners of the country, all of which has been manifested without any ostentation, that he has completely won the confidence, respect and affection of the whole people. This fact was clearly demonstrated by the rousing welcome with which Oakland greeted him as he passed through its public streets.

Religious War in Morocco.

When the Spanish forces captured the stronghold of the Riff tribes infesting Melilla, drove them out of Nador and razed it to the ground and entered the sacred city of Zeluan, the Spanish government congratulated itself that the end of the war was in sight. Their congratulations have been apparently premature. Present indications show that the war has only begun. The defeated Riffs have succeeded in stirring up the religious prejudices of the entire Moorish nation. The tribes of the hinterland are reported to be flocking to join Harka, the Riff leader. A declaration of war by Morocco is also anticipated as the natural consequence of the excitation of the Mohammedan hatred of Christians and the manifest intention of the Spanish government to the conversion of a war of defense against tribal uprisings to a war of territorial conquest.

The situation which Spain thus suddenly finds facing her is aggravated by dissensions in the Spanish Council of State which have brought about a deadlock on the question of authorizing expenditures to carry on the war, a power which is conferred upon it when the Cortes is closed, as it is at present. The military representation in the Council favors permanent occupation of the Riff hinterland and the reinforcement of the army to carry out that program. The Liberal element in the Council, which is of equal strength now, having received a recruit to its ranks, is opposing the Moroccan campaign as a military adventure. The deadlock prevents the possibility of supplying the government in a very grave position. If a religious war is started there is no telling what results it will produce or how far-reaching will be its influence.

Feeding county prisoners on raisins is certainly a novelty in prison menu; but it is about to be tried as an experiment in Fresno for the improvement of prison discipline, and to secure more work out of those who are employed in the public parks and elsewhere under guard outside the prison walls. The better a prisoner behaves and the more work he does while serving his term of imprisonment, the more raisins served in a variety of seductive forms he will get as a reward. Raisin stew, raisin bread, yeast cookies with raisins, raisin pies and raw raisins three times a week must make a tempting and luxurious bill of fare and will doubtless make Fresno county jail a very attractive institution in the sight of the "hobo" army which will, in all probability, now shape its movements Freshoward in order to go into winter quarters there. Incidentally, the introduction of raisins into the bill of fare of all county jails on the Fresno plan, if it can be done, will open a new market for the product.

Not content with skimming like swallows near the surface of the ground, the aviators have now started the conquest of the aerial heights where only kites and eagles have soared heretofore. Orville Wright on Saturday ascended in his airplane at Potsdam, Germany, to the extraordinary height of 1637 feet above the surface of the ground. Wright's machine is a biplane. But the performance of the Frenchman, Hubert Latham, in his monoplane at Johannisthal, Germany, yesterday, was equally daring and remarkable, as he ascended in the air nearly a thousand feet, an elevation not before considered possible to attain in a monoplane.

Grand Jury Should Investigate.

A New York Grand Jury has indicted a lieutenant and two sergeants belonging to the regular police force and five detectives in the employ of a private detective agency for aiding and abetting blackmailing at Sheepshead and Gravesend race tracks. The activity of the New York Grand Jury suggests a field of investigation that the Grand Jury of Alameda county has seemingly overlooked in the past, namely, the treatment of individuals taken into custody by the Oakland police on any kind of a charge before they have been brought to trial and had the opportunity which the law allows them to be tried by their peers to prove their innocence or establish their guilt.

It is legitimate for the Grand Jury to investigate the system which has long been in force in the Oakland Police Department of putting persons accused of felonious offenses through a preliminary Spanish inquisitorial process of the "sweatbox" and "third degree" order, and subjecting them to the humiliation and degradation associated with the Bertillon system to perpetuate their identity in the police records prematurely, as if they were convicted felons and that without the slightest warrant of law, as illustrated in the Anargyros case. The latter furnishes a good ground for the investigation.

The tyranny of the police department has been stretched beyond the limit of endurance. If the police department's present methods are to be tolerated, men and women may be subjected to the grossest outrages through trumped up charges lodged against them for the venting of personal spite or some other unworthy and unlawful motive. It is time that the Grand Jury should take cognizance of these methods and permanently curb them.

The Chamber of Commerce of Oroville has undertaken to make a permanent exhibit of the mineral and agricultural products of Butte county in the new Western Pacific Railroad Company's depot, now in course of construction, for the display of which the company has conceded space.

One of the main features of the exhibit will be a mineral arch leading to the depot arcade and constructed of the various minerals and materials found in the county. The cost of installing the exhibit will be borne by the Chamber of Commerce and the Board of Supervisors. Butte county has a wealth and variety of both agricultural and mineral products, and this plan of advertising its resources is a fine piece of practical promotion work which is sure to bear abundant returns for the outlay involved in carrying it out. It is besides a novelty in the work of county promotion which commends itself particularly to all other counties.

According to J. Bruce Walker of the Canadian Department of the Interior, 75,000 American families entered the Canadian Northwest from the United States this year. Each family is said to represent an average capital of $1000. All of them have taken up homesteads. For several years past a steady migration of American farmers from the border States has been in progress across the Canadian line. These have taken up lands and established their homes in the rich valleys of the Assiniboine and Saskatchewan rivers, along the line of the Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk Pacific railroads. One of the most notable features in the movement is that these American settlers hasten to acquire Canadian citizenship by becoming British subjects.

It is now calculated by astronomical experts that the earth will be swept by the tail of the Halley comet next spring, as the two bodies, it is predicted, will meet on the same plane, but not in the same path. No one need lose a moment's sleep on that account, however, for it is not the first time for the earth to pass through the tail of one of these "vagrants of the sky." Such an incident happened about thirty years ago without any serious consequences to this terrestrial sphere and the repetition of the experience next spring will not be accompanied with any more serious consequences. But if there is any virtue in the theory that a comet year produces specially fine vintage, the visit of the Halley comet should be hailed with enthusiasm by the wine producers of California as an incident which will give special value to the vintage of 1910.

Before the year is out Oakland will have the nucleus of a well equipped public museum. The plans contemplate its use as an educational adjunct to the public schools. Jurisdiction over it should, however, be permanently vested in the Park Commission, as the museum building is a part of the lake shore park. If it is allowed to be controlled by the Board of Education, it will be in a similar position as the Chabot observatory, which, although located in a public park, is not under the Park Commission's jurisdiction and is only in a nominal sense open to the public, being held almost exclusively as a part of the public school system.

It was a contemptible San Francisco newspaper slur on the patriotism and the loyalty of the 450,000 inhabitants of Alameda county and the 250,000 population in Oakland to the President to announce that only 40,000 of them would turn out to welcome him today on this side of the bay. The people branded the announcement as a base slander by the greatest and most enthusiastic outpouring ever witnessed here to greet him, in which all parts of the body of the county joined.

A Hint to Judge Dunne

(Stockton Mail, October 1.)

It is a pity that a man with such good impulses as move Judge Dunne of San Francisco should ever have conceived the idea that he was cut out for a judge. The Mail has heretofore called attention to his utter lack of judicial mind, and he gave another proof of it the other night by attending the meeting at which Francis J. Heney opened his campaign for district attorney. Not only was Dunne at the meeting, but he took a seat on the platform. Of course, he was cheered, but the spectacle of a man who has sworn that he is unbiased in regard to the graft trials, taking an active part in the campaign of the man who has so bitterly denounced the men who have been on trial must destroy every fair-minded man's confidence in the judge.

The worst of it is that such an exhibit of personal bias on the part of a trial judge reacts against the graft prosecution. Dunne's manifest unfairness in his rulings in the trial of Mayor Schmidt gave ground for the charge that a conviction was desired chiefly so that the prosecution could get control of the Mayor's office.

Some good friend of law and decency ought to take Judge Dunne aside and urge him to preserve the appearance of fairness, even though he is constitutionally unable to overcome his prejudices.

About the Magnetic Storm

One of those strange coincidences which continue to puzzle the practical electrician and the astronomer was reported yesterday. Disturbances of the earth's magnetism so slight enough to interfere with the working of telegraph wires and submarine cables began on Friday night and extended through a considerable portion of Saturday. During a part of this period, when darkness afforded a chance for any unusual illumination to be noticeable, there was a fine display of aurora borealis, the seat of which was the upper air. Finally there came news that on Friday a spot of enormous size (having a length of fully forty thousand miles) was observed on the sun.

So often have these three phenomena occurred simultaneously in the past that doubt that they are related to each other can no longer be entertained. It is believed, too, that the outbreak on the sun is the cause, and the magnetic storm and the aurora are closely allied effects, but that is about as far as any one dare go. Why the earth is a magnet and why any influence from the sun should affect its magnetism so as to cause violent changes in a few seconds are unsolved mysteries. Exactly what takes place in the realm of the produce men. Block after block, every spot is devoted to one business, and a stranger would imagine that this was some world emporium that sent food to every corner of the earth.

It is shipping, but purely local, for the consignments are chiefly to the many sections of the country's metropolis—New York. Here are handled the nation's most precious products—the perishable dairy and poultry produce. In a year there passes through the hands of the merchants of this section $85,000,000 worth of these products—$5,000,000 worth of cheese, $34,000,000 worth of butter, $25,000,000 worth of eggs and $21,000,000 worth of poultry.

New York consumes 4,000,000 cases of eggs alone, each case containing thirty dozen. The average price of these eggs is twenty-three cents a dozen. Of this number there may be from 600,000 to 900,000 of refrigerator eggs, which are stored for distribution to the retailers and sold to the consumers through the regular channels.

At the height of the season the receipts may soar as high as 40,000 cases or more in a day, the prices fluctuating from forty cents to seventeen cents a dozen at wholesale. The high prices occur during the late fall and winter, when the production is ordinarily at its lowest point, but during February and early March, according to weather conditions, the supply jumps and prices relax, and a greater number of eggs is consumed in Manhattan and the boroughs. —Leslie's Weekly.

Regarding the experiments made by the Swedish State Railways with "wood creosote" for the preservation of their ties, Consul General Winslow of Stockholm writes:

"Experiments with wood creosote instead of coal tar creosote were begun by the railways in 1903. A number of ties were then impregnated with wood creosote, or rather with what it is here called, wood tar oil. It was, however, difficult to get the tar oil to penetrate deep enough into the wood, and although a pressure of twelve atmospheres was employed, not more than about twelve pounds to the tie could be absorbed. The dimensions of the ties are 6 by 8 inches by 9 feet. This quantity of the solution is considered insufficient, at least on the basis of comparison with the twenty pounds of ordinary coal tar creosote which lies above, to obtain which a pressure of only about three atmospheres is necessary.

"The reason for this unfavorable result with the wood tar oil is ascribed to the consistency of the solution, but it is considered that this fact of slight importance does not exclude the possibility of a tie treated with wood tar oil having the same resisting power as one prepared in the old way with coal tar creosote. The time a well impregnated tie is expected to last is eighteen years, and as five years have passed since the ties impregnated with wood tar oil were used, the time is not yet ripe for a final judgment.

"So far they seem perfectly sound. Experiments have also been made to from a solution of wood tar oil with 25 to 50 per cent coal tar creosote, but no satisfactory results were obtained. For the present further experiments with wood tar oil have been abandoned, chiefly for the reason that the railroads do not possess facilities for impregnating on a large scale with a high pressure. The price of the wood tar oil used for these experiments is about 2 cents a pound."

More 'Poor Man's Diggings'

According to the current stories from Alaska, poor man's diggings of great promise have been struck in the Innoko country, southeast of Norton Sound, and there is a general stampede to the new camp. This is the third season of prospecting in that region, and each report receives news of tellers of rich strikes made in the shallow diggings which give it the characteristic of a poor man's camp.

What has made Alaska and the British Yukon the poor man's diggings. The original prospectors had none of them money enough to buy machinery or to transport it into that country of magnificient distances and no transportation facilities. Neither would capital have been enlisted during the present generation in development work on mines in Alaska had it not been for the immense wealth taken out by men of no capital save their brains and energy. The Klondike was a poor man's camp in its inception, and paid the original miners from the grass roots down. So rich were the claims that the first miners got money sufficient to purchase their supplies during the first winter after discovery by panning the dirt off their dumps with melted snow.

Some of the best discoveries in Alaska of recent years have been at such depth in the frozen ground that it was useless for a man without capital to attempt to open a claim. It required money to put in the appliances for thawing the frozen ground and sinking to considerable depth. But men with capital are now willing to take over all such properties, and development proceeds apace. It reports should prove to be true, the Innoko country promises to give the poor man a chance to make a mine.—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

SPAIN RUSHING TROOPS TO MOROCCO

Sending of Reinforcements Is Creating Uneasiness in Paris

EUROPEAN POWERS FEAR GROWTH OF OPERATIONS

Spanish Government May Be Going Beyond Original Object Mapped Out

PARIS, Oct. 5.—The preparations for the extension of Spain's operations in Morocco, involving the sending of heavy reinforcements, are creating increasing uneasiness in Paris.

The Parisien, a journal owned by Minister of Commerce Dupuy, in what is believed to be an inspired article, says today that Spain's program seems to go beyond the object originally communicated to the powers and provokes apprehension in Europe, especially in London and Paris.

DANGER ON FRONTIER.

The Colonial authorities of Algeria, the article says, have notified Paris of the existence of fanatical excitement in the interior and speak of danger along the Algerian frontier, if General Marina, the commander of the Spanish forces in Morocco attempts to push his expedition southward from Zetum.

FEAR ASSASSINATION.

In conclusion, the paper intimates that the reports from the interior of Spain indicate there is grave danger of serious trouble at home as soon as the country is invaded of troops.

The Spanish Assembly will be under heavy guard night and day and it is feared Barcelona revolutionists are plotting the assassination of the Marquis Del Muri, the Spanish Ambassador, as a means of forcing the government to abandon its repressive measures in Catalonia.

The continuance was agreed to because of the inability of Governor Haskell to attend the trial in the Oklahoma City in connection with the bridge suspension.

When the cases come up next week, both sides declare they will be ready for the arguments to quash the indictments.

TRAIL OF GOLD CREATES SENSATION MANY PEOPLE OUT PROSPECTING

Since Sunday's issue of THE TRIBUNE, in which one whole page was devoted to "The Trail of Gold," the vicinity between Thirteenth and Twenty-second streets has been kept hot by eager gold-seekers.

It is the simplest as well as the most interesting puzzle contest ever given in Oakland, and the eager response on the part of numbers of men and women has drawn heavily on the merchants' supplies of tickets, today.

One good feature of the contest is that no answers will be accepted in THE TRIBUNE office before Thursday, and then the first correct one wins the $50 bag of gold. This gives the person who starts out Wednesday just as good a chance to win the gold.

It should not take more than two hours to visit every one of the twenty-four stores and get a ticket. No purchase need be made, and the tickets may be had for the asking. When shopping, women can collect the tickets, and some time later and then work out the numbers from the paper at home during the evening.

Even busy men are snatching a moment now and then to get a ticket on two, or for by Wednesday night they can easily have a full set and have a good chance of winning $50. Pretty good for say two hours' work.

If you didn't see yesterday's TRIBUNE, get one and learn how to get on the "Trail of Gold."

HEART--TRIBUNE'S PAGE FOR WOMEN--HOME

A charmingly appointed luncheon given at the Best home in San Leandro today, the engagement of Miss Oleta Best and Lynn Stanley was announced.

The announcement comes as a delightful surprise to the friends of the young people. Miss Best is the daughter of the Daniel Best family, which is prominently identified in business and social circles.

The bridegroom-elect is a young business man of San Jose, where he has a large circle of friends. The wedding is to be quietly solemnized at the Best home, October 10, having been chosen for the important event. Miss Best has asked Miss Alice Locke to be her maid of honor upon this happy occasion.

Following the discussion of the delicious luncheon menu, the invited guests enjoyed a fascinating game of cards.

The decorations for the charming affair were carried out in violets and dainty ferns. The tiny Dutch shoes tied with lavender ribbons were placed before each guest's place with a small card hidden in each one bearing the name of the fair bride-elect and the other that of her fiance.

Five hundred was the diversion of the afternoon, the guest list including the following friends: Miss Mabel Wright, Miss Gladys Wright, Miss Katherine McCoy, Miss Alice Locke, Miss Irene Webster, Miss Spangenberg, Miss Mildred Hawes, Miss Harriet Hawes, Mrs. J. W. Grigsby, Mrs. Frank Webster, Mrs. Geo. Jackson, Mrs. C. J. Best, Miss Bess Buckley and Miss Ray Chamberlain.

TOLD AT SEWING BEE.

A pretty secret disclosed yesterday at a pleasant sewing bee was that of the engagement of Miss May Burchhalter and Harry D. Newton.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burchhalter and a talented musician. She is a graduate of the Oakland high school and has a host of friends in the bay cities.

Mr. Newton is a business man of San Francisco.

The wedding is to be a December event.

CHURCH WEDDING.

The wedding of Miss Edith True Yates and Nelson Nutting Scotchler will be solemnized at the Unitarian Church, Berkeley, Monday evening, October 11.

The bride-to-be is the daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Charlotte Yates.

Mr. Scotchler is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Scotchler, who are prominently associated with affairs of the college town.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE.

A delightful surprise party was given to Miss Sophie Larsen at 4322 Hillsdale avenue by her parents last Thursday to celebrate the anniversary of her seventh birthday.

Music and games were the diversions of the evening, which was rounded out by the serving of a dainty supper.

Among those present were: Mrs. Smith, Miss Anna Nelson, Mrs. Ferguson, Miss Helen Smith, Miss Muriel Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. Sorenson, Miss Ruth Ferguson, Russell Larsen, Miss Anna Smith, Holger Larsen, Miss Thorsen, Mrs. Luke Wesley Ferguson, Miss Freda Larsen, Edna Luke, Miss Dorothy Larsen, Walter Luke, Ruth Ferguson, Otto Larsen, Miss Gertrude Bell and Miss Marguerite Sorenson.

EBELL CLUB.

A business meeting of the board of directors of the Ebell Club was held this morning at the club house. In the afternoon a general business meeting was held, followed by an interesting paper given by Mrs. H. N. Rowell of Berkeley. The speaker took for her subject Kindergarten in the Public Schools.

U'S CLUB ENTERTAINED.

The members of the U's Club were entertained at the home of Miss Lorraine Dickey on Twenty-seventh street this afternoon.

An enjoyable sewing bee, with incidental music, rounded out by a delightfully appointed supper, formed the diversion of the afternoon.

WEDDING DATE.

The wedding of Miss Olive Moody, the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Moody, and Harold Macville Taggart is announced for Friday, October 15. Miss Moody, who has been enjoying the summer months touring the southern part of the State, has recently returned to her parents' home in Santa Clara avenue.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED.

The engagement of Miss Ethel Sherman and Harry Lee was announced last week.

Miss Jones, who is a teacher at one of the Berkeley schools, told the interesting news to her associate teachers last week. The announcement came as a pleasant surprise to her friends, who are now planning a series of complimentary affairs in her honor.

Miss Jones is a very charming and talented girl; she is one of the efficient members of the Etude Club, a popular musical organization.

MUSIC AND DANCING.

A delightful evening was enjoyed Saturday when Mrs. Vander Nallen and daughters, Dorothy and Jean, entertained at their pretty home on Central avenue, Alameda. Music and an informal dance rounded out the evening's pleasure, after which a dainty supper was served.

Among those present were: Miss Carmen Gherardelli, Miss Blanche Bonham, Miss Henrietta Hersprung, Miss Isabel MacAvoy, Miss Dorothy Vander Nallen, Miss Jean Vander Nallen, Ed Umphred, Joe Gherardelli, Roy Dundas, George Lee, Dr. Davis and Al Moffitt.

OPENED TOWN HOUSE.

Mrs. Roland Oliver has returned from Los Gatos, where she has been during the summer months.

The pretty home of the Olivers in Vernon Heights is now opened for the season, the charming young hostess having quite recovered from her illness of the early spring.

COMPLIMENTARY DINNER.

A complimentary dinner was given by Mr. and Mrs. William Knapp in Fruita in honor of their nephew, Ulrich Knapp, from Reutlingen, Wuerzburg, Dr. Muskate from Danzig and Assessor Dr. Reutter from Esson on the Ruhr.

The above are making a tour of the world and leave tomorrow on the Monogram for the Orient.

Those present at the dinner were Ulrich Knapp, Dr. Muskate, Assessor Dr. Reutter, Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Pulse, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Miller, Misses Annie and Mary Miller, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Dorsch, Supervisor and Mr. Oscar Hocke, C. Fischer, Carl Doster, Arnold Iken, B. O. Burkhardt, Miss Estelle Knapp, Miss Faunie Knapp, Mr. and Mrs. William Knapp.

A pleasant surprise of the evening was the presentation of a scarfpin with gold nugget as a souvenir of California by Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Pulse to each of the three guests of honor.

TAKEN APARTMENTS.

The Misses Emma and Louise Mahoney are established for the winter at their apartments at the Key Route Inn. During the summer months they have been at the Claremont Country Club enjoying the delightful surroundings of that ideal place.

ENTERTAINING HOUSE GUESTS.

Trousers Supplied to 'Soap Baby' Poster Priest Paints In Missing Garments

DUBLIN.—A Pope in Rome once "troussered" Michael Angelo's nudities. A parish priest in Ireland now has "troussered" the nude baby boy in a soap poster. It shows how the world is steadily progressing.

Every one knows the poster. It represents a chubby little baby boy throwing over his shoulder a smiling look of triumph and satisfaction as with a cake of soap to his hand, he stands upon a chair upon which a washing bowl is placed. The advertising value of the picture is that it reproduces a sight familiar and delightful in every happy home.

The picture has appeared in the pages of magazines in shop windows, and upon the walls of advertising stations. It appeared until a few days ago as a poster upon the walls of Drogheda, Navan and neighboring towns in Ireland. It appears still, but with breeches from waist to below the knees rudely painted upon the boardings and burn them down.

At 3 o'clock on the following morning, with paint pot and brush, bell, book and candle, the evil influence was exorcised and the people of Drogheda are now able to go upon the streets of an infant Marathon competitor in athletic costume.

The minutes of recent meetings of the Association of Drogheda Billposters tell the story of how the city was saved from the vicious influence of infantile nudity.

WHAT WOMEN ARE DOING

Mrs. C. C. Kennelly has been appointed probation officer of the New Orleans Juvenile court.

From Germany comes an interesting story concerning three little girls. Herr Kressler, a mercantile clerk, and the father of the children, was it seems, some years ago staying at Borkum and while there chance to save an elderly Japanese gentleman from drowning, and the latter proved to be Baron Wiyoshi of the Japanese embassy in Berlin. He has just died and left to each of Herr Kressler's little daughters the sum of 20,000 marks, or $5,000, provided that they dress like Japanese until they reach the age of 14 years.

Those familiar with the marked eccentricities of Mrs. Rhinelander Waldo were not astonished at her recent alteration with her cook over the latter's wages, involving the enormous amount of forty odd cents, which Mrs. Waldo flatly declined to pay, and which subsequently brought both mistress and servant into the spotlight of the police court. Ever since, as Gertrude Rhinelander, she was wont to startle society, the widow of Horace Waldo has from time to time made herself conspicuous in one way or another, and there are still living persons who recollect how, on the day her husband died, some thirty years ago, she electrified all the neighborhood in West Fifty-fourth street by rushing bareheaded from door to door, ringing bells and shouting to the maid who answered the summons, "Tell Mrs. So and So that Mr. Waldo is dead." At one time she quarreled with her sister, Mrs. Watson, and dramatically vowed never again to sit at table with her. And although the two sisters resided under the same roof for something like twenty years, Mrs. Waldo day after day trudged out to her meals, generally gloveless and occasionally hatless.

Sarcastic Remark Silences Noisy Girl in Theater

At the Criterion theater in New York the other night, before the rising of the curtain, a dainty girl with tossing black hair and a blue dress was laughing, casting gooey eyes around the audience and generally giving a severe pang to people in the neighborhood.

"Wonder who the upstart young woman is?" queried one man-about-town of another.

"I should judge," replied the other, "that she is a chorus girl having a night off and seeing a real theater and a real show for the first time in her life."

The young woman in blue evidently heard the remark, for she turned in her chair and gazed in blank, bewildered indignation at the critics of her conduct. But whether correct or not, the shaft went home. Throughout the rest of the evening she hadn't a word to say.

The pretty home of the Olivers in Vernon Heights is now opened for the season, the charming young hostess having quite recovered from her illness of the early spring.

BENEFIT AFFAIR.

The ladies of the Providence Hospital Association are to give a whist tournament at St. Francis de Sales hall tomorrow evening. Many ladies prominent in Catholic circles are interested in the event. The association supports a bed at the hospital for the poor and the proceeds from the affair of tomorrow night will be devoted to this worthy cause. In addition to the bed for the poor, the ladies have a bed which is known as the Tag Day bed, which is also used for the worthy poor. The organization does an immense amount of good and it is hoped that there will be a large attendance tomorrow evening to add a handsome sum for the use of the ladies in their charitable work. Mrs. Thomas P. Hogan, who is an indefatigable worker in all charitable affairs, is president of the organization. Miss Florence Beaudry is one of her able assistants of the affair of tomorrow night.

WILL GIVE BALL.

The Retail Shoe Clerks' Local 1129 of Oakland at their last meeting voted to give their first grand ball, to be held at Central hall on Thursday evening, Nov. 4. Every effort will be made to have this affair one of the best of the season. The following committee is in charge: J. M. Samuels, chairman, W. J. Saunderson, M. J. Curran, Al Bradley, Lee Cutberth, Nels Hansen, J. A. Kettlewell, Ralph Roberts, Carl Schindler, J. J. Brennan, H. W. Goeller.

WILL SUPPLY TO 'SOAP BABY' POSTER.

Priest Paints In Missing Garments

Drogheda was held the other day. The urgent occasion, as reported by the secretary, was that the Rev. Father John Currie, P.P., had called upon him in reference to the baby poster, saying that he and the bishop considered it indecent and ordered the immediate covering up of it.

Every one knows the poster. It represents a chubby little baby boy throwing over his shoulder a smiling look of triumph and satisfaction as with a cake of soap to his hand, he stands upon a chair upon which a washing bowl is placed. The advertising value of the picture is that it reproduces a sight familiar and delightful in every happy home.

The poster is now impossible. His reverence insisted on the posters being withdrawn or rendered unobjectionable, and he gave the association twenty-four hours which to do this. Otherwise he threatened to order his men to pour paraffin over the boardings and burn them down.

At 3 o'clock on the following morning, with paint pot and brush, bell, book and candle, the evil influence was exorcised and the people of Drogheda are now able to go upon the streets of an infant Marathon competitor in athletic costume.

Marguerite Clark Will 'Star' Under Shuberts' Management

PETITE MARGUERITE CLARK.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Admirers of "milk" She was then seen in the sonorous, prominent in comic opera, will be glad to learn that she soon will become a "star" under the management of the Shuberts. Miss Clark will be one of the youngest dramatic "stars." She was born in Cincinnati, the daughter of A. J. Clark, a merchant of that city. She was orphaned when eleven years old and an elder sister took charge of her. She was educated in the Brown County Conservatory, Ohio.

Miss Clark made her stage bow in a stock company in Baltimore, under the management of Milton Aborn. She played small parts, engaged as understudy to the prima donna in George W. Loderer's "The Belle of Bohemia."

WILKES-BARRE, Pa.—Pennsylvania delegates to the national convention of Federated Humans Societies to be held soon at St. Paul, Minn., will ask the convention to approve the whipping post as a punishment for wife-beaters and urge that it be adopted in all the States of the Union.

Delegates to the State convention here, which adjourned today, did not take action upon the plan because according to Mrs. A. M. Bertels, of this city, an earnest advocate, it is not believed that at this time it is possible to get such a law adopted by the State Legislature. Mrs. Bertels, it is understood, will present the question at the national convention.

In explaining her views today, she said that she did not want to be cruel and advocate the whipping post for a first offense, but she believes that the man who beats his wife the second time should be sentenced to it.

At today's session the delegates discussed the question of the best treatment for children developing criminal propensities, and those ill-treated by their parents. It was held in $500 for examination on next Monday.

WILKES-BARRE, Pa.—Dr. Leonard Pearson, the state veterinarian, who died a few days ago and who aided the societies greatly in their animal work.

Buying a Piano From Us This Week Means You Save From $150 to $225

Pianos That Sell From $375 to $450 at $237

$10 Cash and $6 Per Month

Store at 557-559 Twelfth Street, Opposite Orpheum Theater—Open Evenings Until 9

If economy appeals to you and your home is pianoles, now is the opportune time for you to make a purchase. People bought pianos from us last week who had not expected to buy for a year. If you buy now it means a saving on the purchase price of a piano of from $150 to $225. This is your chance to purchase a piano if you ever intend to buy. Such piano quality as we are now offering for the price has never been known in history. This is not an exaggeration, but an actual fact. Call at our warerooms and convince yourself. There is certainly no excuse for being without a piano, as any young man or woman, husband or father that earns anywhere near a fair salary can take advantage of the sale we are now holding. For instance, you can have a piano that ordinarily would cost you from $375 to $450 at the price of $237. This delivers the piano to your home, with stool, and then all you pay is $10 cash and the balance in easy monthly payments, as low as $6 a month if you wish.

TWENTY CENTS A DAY.

Stop and consider that you have probably promised yourself that you would have a piano in your home when you were able to afford it. Surely out of your income you can spare 20¢ a day, and while you are paying for it you get the use of the instrument. It means that by laying aside 20¢ a day from your earnings you not only are making an investment that your whole family will profit by, but that you are supplying your home with a piano, which no home is complete without. In addition to this we wish to strongly impress upon you that if you buy now you save from one-third to one-half of the purchase price of a piano.

SCORES OF HAPPY HOMES.

Last week scores of homes were made happy by us, and there is absolutely no reason now why every home should not have a piano. We have in our Oakland store at 557-559 Twelfth street over two hundred new pianos that must be sold. Among the stock are such well-known makes as the well-known Chickering, the artistic Sohmer, the old reliable Aeolian, the musical Wurlitzer, the Sankt Hall, the Sola, the Marshall and Wendell, and over twenty well-known and high-grade different makes. You will find during this sale we are holding that our prices are the lowest ever made and that more real piano value can be obtained now for less money than ever before. Now is the time to buy and if you can't call at our warerooms write us for special bargain list.

A FEW OF THE MANY SPECIALS IN USED PIANOS.

Think of being able to purchase a regular $425.00 Kurtzman Piano (and two months) for $245; a $525 Fischer piano at $217; a $475. Emerson at $214; a $475 Gabler piano at $210; a $245 Hallet & Davis piano at $188; and a dozen of other pianos of well-known reputation that are all in as good condition as brand-new instruments, at like prices. Then we are also offering fifteen square pianos, good makes, at $35 each. Terms are low on these pianos as $1 per week.

OUR GUARANTEE.

Every piano sold by us during this sale is sold under our unconditional guarantee, which means that if the piano is not exactly as represented money will be cheerfully given. Every piano is delivered free delivery, with stool, and if you buy now we absolutely guarantee you a saving of from $150 to $225 on the purchase of a new or used piano. Don't delay buying at once, as this is your opportunity.

ALONG THE LINE OF DAY'S PARADE

Informality Marked the Reception—Children a feature of the Spectators

The President was in the greatest good humor when the informal reception extending him the greetings of Oakland was concluded at the Key Route Inn

Garden. He was almost boyish in his expression of good nature and he chatted along the line of route, waved to the more forward of the youngsters whom the police tried in vain to keep behind the ropes that lined the streets through which the President was escorted to the platform at the lake. The Tiff smile was there throughout the time he spent in Oakland. The formalities arranged by the committee of reception were dispensed with by the act of the President himself when entering under the canopy in the Key Route Inn where he broke the ice by grasping Congressman Hayes warmly by the hand and as he did so exclaimed: "How are you, old, citrus fruit?"

From that moment on he became a good fellow with the magic smile and a kindly nod for all.

The parade was told through the most beautiful thoroughfares of Oakland. The trees, beautiful gardens, lawns and crowds of children in gay colors, waving flags and handkerchiefs made a gala spectacle that was of almost dream-like pictures.

It was an event in the life of the little folk and their patriotic voices were raised in the melody of cheering whenever the President's carriage came into view. It was plain the President enjoyed the spectacle. He waved his hand and doffed his hat to the enthusiastic youngsters at every foot of the way.

CONVENT SCHOOLS.

At the Sacred Heart Convent the sisters and the pupils, dressed in black with white collars, formed a pretty picture in the flower and arboreal settings of the expansive garden of the convent. It was the 10th anniversary in the waste of oak and the President rose in his carriage and waved his hat. The convent girls looked from their groupings in their enthusiastic cheering and the sisters waved in acknowledgment of the President's salute.

When the parade passed, police nowhere were of avail in restraining the tens of thousands of people who followed the cavalcade to the speaker's rostrum. They stood from property line to property line, filling the streets interspersed with kaleidoscopic hues intensified by the green foliage and assembled to join the thousands already assembled on the lake shore.

NATIVE SONS BANQUET AT CARLTON TONIGHT

REEDLEY, Oct. 5.—The ninth annual banquet of the Native Sons of the Golden West will be held this evening at the Carlton hotel.

Dr. C. A. Meek will act as toastmaster, among the speakers will be the Mayor of Reedley, J. Leander F. Lee, Mayor of Stanford, San Francisco, C. W. Decker, past grand president of the order. Superior Judge H. C. Grosson also a past grand president and Mr. C. C. M. assistant district attorney of Alameda County. Berkeley Taylor of the Native Sons has been very active during the last year in his efforts to interest the order in making up by buying all fallen trees in the woods, such as the chinquapin, acorn, and other products.

Entertainment plans are also being made to have Berkeley well represented in the Portola fraternal parade.

Chief Executive Reviews Thousands of Little Ones on California Field

With the haste necessitated by a rigid itinerary and a small allotment of time, President Taft, immediately following his address at the Hearst Greek Theater in Berkeley, was escorted to his automobile and started on the tour of the hills en route to Oakland, where the Oakland reception committee, headed by Edson Adams, greeted him at College and Alcatraz avenue.

There were but two stops enroute; the first time when the President stopped at the University football field to review the thousands of school children gathered there and the second when he called at the home of Amos S. Blake to pay his respects to his relatives.

ESCORDED BY CAVALRY.

Strictly on time, 9 o'clock, the President left the Greek Theater, escorted by two troops from the Fourteenth United States Cavalry, and followed by fourteen automobiles containing the Berkeley reception committee.

In the automobile with the President rode Governor James N. Gillett, Mayor Beverly Hodgeshead, Captain Archie Butt and James Sloan Jr. It was preceded by a squad of mounted police and Troop F of the Fourteenth and immediately followed by Troop G of the Fourteenth.

FORMER OAKLAND PRIEST DIES FROM APPENDICITIS.

Father St. Paul, pastor of an Oakland church, died today following an operation for appendicitis. He had many friends in Oakland and was a popular assistant pastor of the St. Columb bus church in this city. The funeral will take place tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock and the services are to be held in St. Mary's church in Stockton.

If people with symptoms of kidney or bladder trouble could realize their danger they would be in a safe case, according to Foley's Kidney Remedy. This great remedy stops the pain and the irregularities, strengthens and builds up these organs and there is no danger of brittle bones or other serious disorder.

President and Party Depart From Oakland on Cutter Golden Gate

The revenue cutter Golden Gate, with the Presidential ensign fluttering in the breeze, awaited at Broadway wharf for the coming of the Chief Executive of the Nation. The officers and crew, spick and span in the uniform of the service, were at their posts and as soon as the President and party stepped aboard the gong sounded and the little steamer veered away from the wharf and with ever increasing headway steamed out into the harbor with its course bent westerly. The vast throngs on the wharf cheered and waved flags and handkerchiefs as the vessel drew off and continued down the channel.

Those on board the Golden Gate with the President were:

Of the President's party: Captain Archibald W. Butt, U. S. A., A. B. C.; Assistant Secretary Wendell W. Mischler, Carl C. Wagner (stenographer), Dr. J. J. Richardson, James Sloan Jr., Joseph E. Murphy, Robert T. Small, Robert H. Hazard, E. A. Fowler, William Hoster, Sherman T. Allen, Harry L. Dunlap, John Hayes Hammond.

State and Congressional representatives: Governor J. N. Gillett, Senator George C. Perkins, Senator Frank P. Flint, Congressman E. A. Hayes, Congressman Julius Kahn, Congressman S. C. Smith, Congressman James McLachlan, Congressman Duncan E. McKinlay, Congressman W. P. Englebright, Congressman J. R. Knowland, Congressman J. C. Needham.

FIRE CHIEF F. K. KRAUTH CELEBRATES ANNIVERSARY

ALAMEDA, Oct. 5.—Chief F. K. Krauth celebrated his thirty-third anniversary in the fire department yesterday. His friends commemorated the event by entertaining him at a dinner at the Saddle Rock Grill in Oakland, followed by an automobile ride into the country.

Chief Krauth was instrumental in organizing the volunteer fire department in this city, and the growth of the department has been largely due to his efforts.

Thirty-three years ago, he was associated with the Citizen Hook and Ladder Co. No. 1, of which he was first assistant foreman, P. W. Barton, library trustee, was foreman of this company.

Krauth was made chief in 1880, and has acted in that capacity ever since, with the exception of two years, when he served the country as deputy chief in the fire department of the Chico auxiliary.

Miss Anna Davies, president of the Twentieth Century Club and the Casa Goldi Circle, is spending several weeks in the mountains about the fire chief's residence.

The German and French composers will be entertained by the women of the Elks Club Monday, October 10, at the regular fortnightly meeting in City Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. James P. Peck of 2001 Parker Street have returned from a delightful trip of three weeks in Europe. During their absence the large Peck office, returning by the northern route, when they made stops in Portland and Seattle, was the Chipping Auxiliary yesterday afternoon in San Francisco. Mrs. Mary Roberts Coniff, wife of Dame Coniff of this city, gave a lecture with vocal illustrations on "The German and French Schools" will be the subject of the Chipping Auxiliary.

Miss Anna Miley Wood will give a song recital in the parlor of the First Presbyterian Church on Saturday afternoon.

Chief Krauth is recognized as one of the leading fire chiefs of the Pacific coast, and is approached on all matters of importance pertaining to the fire departments all over the State.

MAYOR'S STENOGRAPHER AGAIN SPRAINS ANKLE

ALAMEDA, Oct. 5.—Miss Hazel Dudgeon, stenographer for Mayor Noy, is again suffering from her home in Oakland, with a sprained ankle. This is the second sprain that Miss Dudgeon has had within a month. She sprained the weak-kneed ankle yesterday while alighting from a car. She will probably be able to resume her duties in the city hall within a few days.

RAILROAD RATES ARE ARGUED AT SPOKANE

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 5.—Interstate Commerce Commissioners Lane and Cook heard arguments on the Spokane rate case.

The principal contention was that freight rates to Seattle represented a reasonable compensation for carriers and that the higher Spokane rate, based on water competition, was excessive and unjust.

Counsel for the railroads answered by indicating the loss of revenue which would result from the application of coast rates to Spokane. Those rates, they asserted, were the result of public conditions having been issued.

Hot Water for Your Whole House, Night and Day--5c a Day

Remarkable Water Heater That Makes Water Heat Itself Without Any-one's Attention.

For five cents a day, a big house can be furnished with steaming hot water, without limit, every day, all day and all night long, in the laundry, kitchen, bath-rooms, and in all the living rooms if desired--making the old kitchen boiler a back number, a big expense and an ugly nuisance.

This remarkable contrivance is the Humphrey Instantaneous Automatic Gas Water Heater. This heater does not store water, like kitchen boils, but heats water, and it does it instantaneously. It heats cold water instantaneously as it flows through the faucet.

Every housewife knows the inconvenience of a kitchen boiler, because you

PULL OUT A HAIR

The Way to Tell If Your Hair Is Diseased.

Even if you have a luxuriant head of hair, you may want to know whether it is in a healthy condition or not. 95 per cent of the people need to know. You can make a test yourself that you can trust, a test which will tell whether your hair is healthy or not. Pull a hair out of your head. If the bulb at the end of the root is white and shrunk, it proves that the hair is diseased, and requires prompt treatment if its loss would be avoided. If the bulb is pink and full, the hair is healthy.

We want every one in Oakland whose hair requires treatment to try our Rexall '93 Hair Tonic. We promise that it shall not cost anything if it does not give satisfactory results. Rexall '93 Hair Tonic is designed to overcome dandruff, relieve scalp irritation, to stimulate the hair roots, to tighten the hair already in the head, grow hair and cure baldness.

Out of 100 cases where it was given a thorough conditioning test, it grew hair though the hair which should be sufficient proof that Rexall '93 Hair Tonic contains extraordinary curative and hair growing qualities. It is because of our knowledge of this preparation and our sincere faith in its goodness that we want you to try it at our risk.

Rexall '93 Hair Tonic is a clean, clear preparation which does not grease, gum or thicken the hair, and it has a very pleasing odor. We have it in two sizes, prices 50c and $1.00. The Owl Drug Co., Inc., three stores, Thirteenth and Broadway, Tenth and Washington and Sixth and San Pablo avenue.

always have to heat more water than you use, you have to wait quite a while before it gets sufficiently hot, the water you get is usually only lukewarm, the supply of water is limited, it means an expensive waste of gas and time, and inconvenience, and besides when hot water is drawn from the boiler cold water rushes in and cools off your hot water.

With the "Humphrey Automatic" this is all different. By putting one in your basement or kitchen you have all the hot water you want, oceans of it; as hot as you want it, and at any minute of the day or night, at any faucet. Turn the water on and instantly the gas turns up and heats the water instantaneously as fast as it can pour out. Turn off the water and the gas shrinks to a tiny spark, and all gas expense is stopped.

Hot water from a kitchen boiler, heated by coal or gas, costs 25c a day for a family of five, but with the "Humphrey Automatic" you save out of it for only 5 cents a day or less. You pay for gas only while you are drawing hot water. So you have hot water at the turn of the faucet from attic to basement, instantaneously.

With the kitchen boiler only one warm bath can be had in an evening, none on wash day. You have to bathe when you can, not when you want to.

The "Humphrey Automatic" never gets out of order; there are no plumbing bills to pay. It is safe, dependable, quickly pays for itself, and is a marvel of ingenuity, a money-saver, gas-saver, time-saver, perfor. beauty, and will make your home a better place to live in.

Let us send you a beautiful book of illustrations and full explanation of the wonderful "Humphrey Automatic Water Heater" free. Send your name and address to The Humphrey Co., Dept. 1, Kalamazoo, Mich.

We also manufacture a smaller heater, which produces hot water instantaneously, for use in bathrooms, the Humphrey Instantaneous Bath Heater, which is a device every bit as remarkable as the Humphrey Automatic, but smaller, and costs only 5 cents a day or less.

If interested in this also, send for our booklet on the Humphrey Instantaneous Bath Heater.

YANKEE CONSUL' BIG FUN MAKER

Ferris Hartman Company in Musical Comedy Open at Broadway

While "The Yankee Consul," which opened last night at the Broadway Theater, is full of enough fun, catchy songs and pretty girls to cause most any sort of a demonstration on the part of the audience, there was a lot of extra applause--applause in the nature of a personal welcome to Ferris Hartman and several of his friends whom Oakland claims as their particular own. And it was a splendid reception Hartman himself got at his first appearance.

Altogether it was a triumphant night for the singers and a royal welcome on the part of Oakland theatergoers. "The Yankee Consul" is the thing to attend when you want to laugh and at the same time hear lively music and see the Hartman beauty chorus. As for plot, it is the usual comic operetta type, which no one pretends to care about. Ferris Hartman plays the consul, whose name, Booze, indicates the condition in which he is generally. The scene is laid in Santo Domingo, thus allowing some pretty Spanish effects in costumes.

There were a number of old-time Idora favorites in the cast, among them Walter De Leon, Miss Muggins Davies, Walter Cattell and Oscar Fogarty. Leading woman's part was taken by Miss Jossie Jean Teller, who possesses a good voice, and Miss Josie Hart. Among the good songs were "Olden Days" by Hartman and chorus, "Cupid Has Found My Heart," by Oscar Welsh, and "We Were Taught to Walk Demurely," by Miss Isobel, Miss Davies and Miss Hart.

"The Yankee Consul" will be given tomorrow night and Wednesday night and matinee. It will be followed by "The Sultan of Selu."

ENVOY RECALLED EN ROUTE TO POST

Minister Crane Required to Return to Washington for Conference

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5.—Charles R. Crane, the newly appointed United States minister to the court of Pekin, while enroute to his post has been recalled to Washington by Secretary of State Knox.

He had his apartments engaged to the Mongols.

The summons from Washington, however, requires his immediate return to the national capitol. In explanation of his recall Minister Crane said:

"I am going back to Washington to receive some additional information from the State Department. Secretary Knox was away when I left Washington and I did not see him. The First Assistant Secretary was away, too. Mr. Knox now wants me to return for a brief meeting with him, in which information as to my new duties will be given. This is merely a matter of routine in connection with my starting away on the now mission."

CLAIM SOUTHERN PACIFIC WILL ENTER RATE WAR

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 5.—The San Francisco-Los Angeles passenger rate war has reached such a stage that the Southern Pacific Company may be forced into the fight in order to protect its rail traffic. A conference will be held in San Francisco today to decide whether the railroad shall take a hand in the conflict or not. T. A. Garlach, assistant passenger and freight agent here, had hardly returned north yesterday to attend the conference.

The North Pacific Company, owning the Elder and the Roanoke, have joined in the war.

They will do what this great railroad will do. They will enter the field, will compete and seek to get a good rate of return and will get it.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5.—James Horner, general passenger agent, and F. E. Battens, assistant passenger agent of the Southern Pacific, both last night denied knowledge of the conference.

JACK JOHNSON AGREES TO SHORT POSTPONEMENT

COFFROTH GAINS POINT AND WILL HOLD BOUT SATURDAY

Promoter Takes Bull by Horns and Wins Out; Offers to Bet Johnson That It Will Not Rain Saturday--Jackson Replies to Sullivan

By EDDIE SMITH.

WHEN James W. Coffroth made the first move to gain a postponement of the Jack Johnson-Stanley Ketchel contest he ran against a wall of stubbornness on the part of the negro that would compare favorably with the Rock of Gibraltar. The bout looked very bad, the oily salve of the promoter ran off a duck's back, and it looked as if the promoter would have to go through with his original plans of holding the contest on a mid-week day.

Perseverance is one of the strong suits of the astute promoter, however, and little by little he weakened the champion's defense against a postponement until last evening, when just the right time had come, he stepped in and putting his foot down, declared he would postpone the contest from Tuesday to Saturday on his own responsibility and would so advertise it, and if the men wanted to fight they could and if they refused to fight on that day, four days later than the original date, they could take their match and peddle it to some other promoter.

WAS COFFROTH BLUFFING?

Britt may have been in on the play, but if he was he took on a frightened look at the suggestion of losing the match and Johnson looked the promoter over from head to foot as if attempting to discover whether or not he was to be a good bet and the like.

It was bluffing. If Coffroth was bluffing when he said he would postpone the contest on his own hook then he should be a poker player, for it was the keenest thing of its kind pulled off in San Francisco in many a day.

The promoter reminded the fighters that he had no forfeit up and that he could do as he pleased with the contest and as Johnson knew this to be a fact he started to make preparations for the lay over. Jack did not want to leave any loop hole whereby Britt and Ketchel could escape the $5,000 in bet and when the promoter agreed to draw up a very strong agreement whereby the original agreement as to side bet and the like held just as good on Saturday as any other day the colored man agreed to stand by the delay.

An agreement was then drawn up and signed by Britt for Ketchel, Johnson and Coffroth and the thing was settled that the contest would take place four days later on a Saturday afternoon and each expressed the hope that there would be no rain and that the crowd would be large.

COFFROTH OFFERS TO BET.

This weather talk is one thing with which the goat of one James W. Coffroth can always be pulled and as Johnson talked of the danger of the rain and the effects of it on an out door fight, the promoter turned to him and offered to bet him $2,000 that it would not rain on Saturday, October 16, and announced that he would give some odds with the bet. That quieted every one on the weather question for it either gave the boys cold feet or the bet was trifle to big.

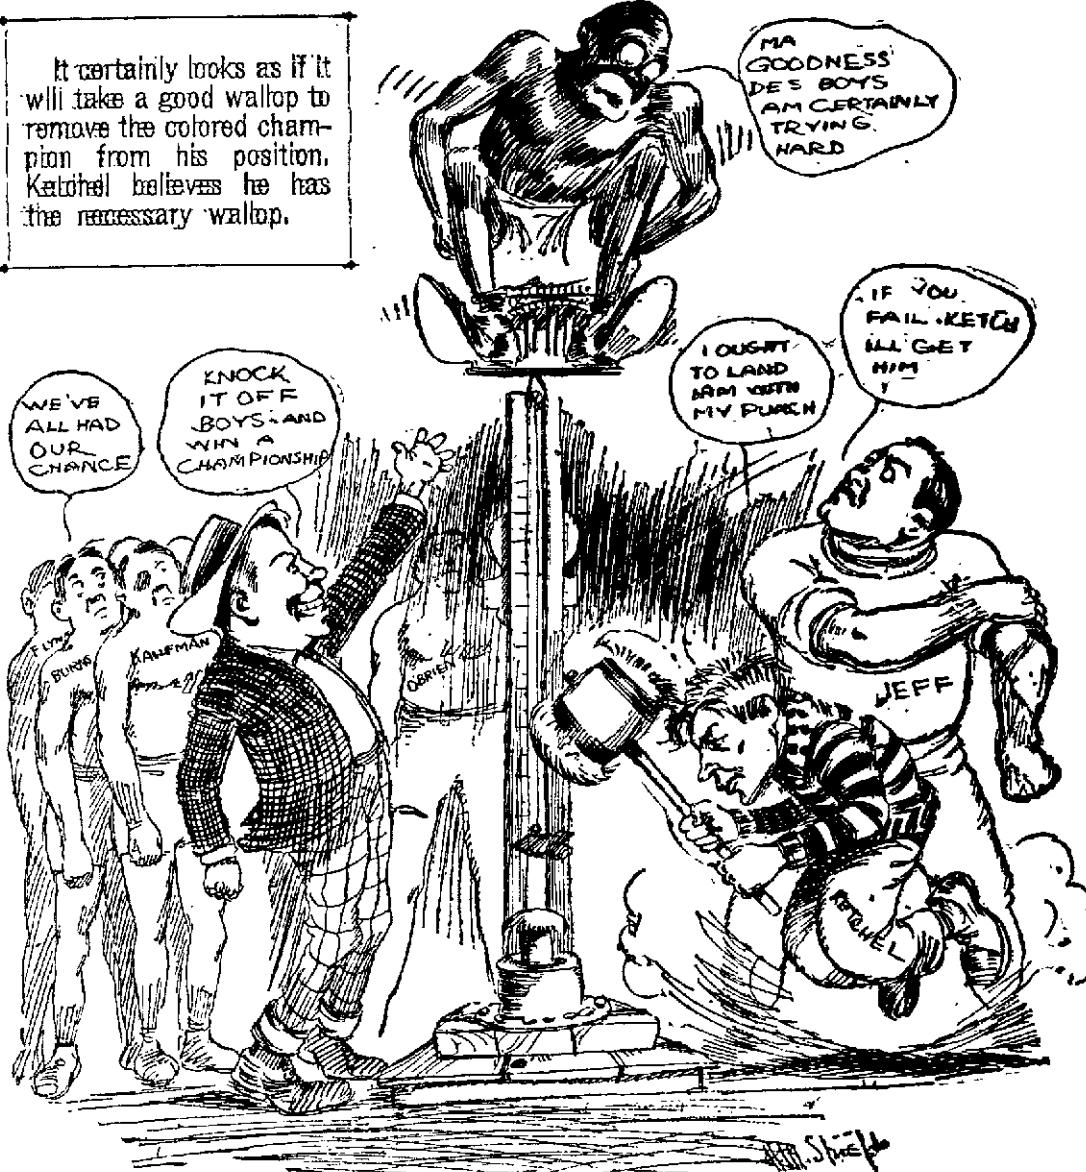

Willie Britt asked Johnson what was his real reason for not wanting to agree to a change of date in the first place and the colored man replied to the effect that he did not care to let Britt go about telling people that he had forced the champion into a postponement. Johnson informed Britt that it was Coffroth who forced the lay over and that he agreed to it only because Coffroth deserved it.

The fact that the contest has been laid over for a few days will have no effect on the training of the fighters for either man has figured on his condition so fully that he would require a lay off. Ketchel will keep right at his boxing and gymnasium work but will take a few days longer lay off prior to entering the ring. This will lessen the danger of the hard hitting young Michigander going into the ring with some hands.

Johnson will plod along in his usual style and will enter the ring none the better or worse for the lay over. The betting on the result still remains 19 to 4 that Johnson wins and even money that Ketchel stays two-rounder.

If the number of bettors who think that Ketchel will stay that number of rounds will back their opinion with

It certainly looks as if it will take a good wallop to remove the colored champion from his position. Ketchel believes he has the necessary wallop.

COUNCIL PORES OVER BOND ISSUE

Pass Resolutions; Hear Report of City Engineer on Water Front

Three resolutions relating to the proposed bond issue were read and adopted before the City Council last night. The first resolution defines the territory proposed to be developed along the estuary. Assistant City Engineer Brown in accordance with a request from the commissioners, estimated the cost of constructing a dike along the estuary from Broadway to Myrtle street, a distance of 2750 linear feet. To build this wall the engineer estimated that it would cost $45 per linear foot or $1,021,500 for the entire distance.

In the proposed improvement of the water front not only is a dike wall built, but a steel wall 10 feet in width will be along the edge of the estuary, on which later a belt line railway will be built. This is the feature that is designed to bring traffic to Oakland from the front.

The second resolution adopted by the council called for the erection of a new city hall at a cost of $1,150,000, and also the purchase of additional ground.

The third resolution adopted by the council called for the erection of a new city hall at a cost of $1,150,000, and also the purchase of additional ground.

A great amount of work has been done by the Good Roads League in getting the sentiment of the people of the county and so far this seems to be unanimous as no one can oppose such a move who has the interest of the county or its individuals at heart.

As all the commissioners are appointed and work up a report covering the work necessary to be done the proposition will be submitted to the people of the county for a vote.

Roughly it is expected that the issue will be for $1,000,000.

PRESENT PETITION FOR COMMISSION

Contra Costa Good Roads League Name Citizens for Position

MARTINEZ, Oct. 5. — The Good Roads League of Contra Costa county, through its president, Warren Hill Boyde, today presented a petition to the Board of Supervisors with a thousand signatures, requesting the board to appoint a highway commission of three to proceed along the lines laid down in the State law providing for the bonding of counties for permanent highways.

The Good Roads League recommended the appointment of Messrs. L. D. Dinn of Richmond, A. W. Maltby of Concord and Ray L. McCabe of Byron as the commissioners to serve, these men being three of the strongest and most capable men in the county.

WINTHROP FAVORS SHIP SUBSIDY

Assistant Secretary of the Navy Here on a Tour of Inspection

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5. — Assistant Secretary of the Navy Beckman Winthrop here to inspect Mare Island, Goat Island and the coaling station at California City.

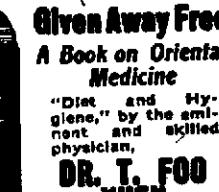

Speaking of the chartering of foreign steamships as colliers, the assistant secretary said:

"The Navy Department is dependent upon the merchant marine, and natural disasters in every way to encourage it. In the event of war we would need American vessels for colliers, for transports and for auxiliary war ships. I personally am in favor of a substantial subsidy which would encourage the American merchant marine, and thus provide a large auxiliary fleet for the navy."

PROSECUTION OF CUSTOMS FRAUDS

Special Federal Attorney Arrives to Assist in the Trial

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5.—The intention of the customs authorities to begin the vigorous criminal prosecution of the importers at this port charged with defrauding the government in returning undervalued packages of invoices, is exhibited in the arrival here yesterday of D. Franklin Lloyd, assistant to the Attorney General of the United States.

He is to assist Chairman Marion Davies of the General Board of Appeals in the prosecution of the cases that have been under investigation by the local customs officials for several months past.

Among those who will be prosecuted are many Chinese, Japanese and American merchants who have been engaged for years in defrauding the government by undervaluing their invoices of Oriental goods.

Roughly, it is expected that the issue is said to have secured conclusive evidence of their criminality upon which main reliance is placed by the prosecution.

PLUMP FOLKS AND THIN FOLKS

Samsoe Will Make People Fat—“Money Back If It Fails.”

Says Wishart.

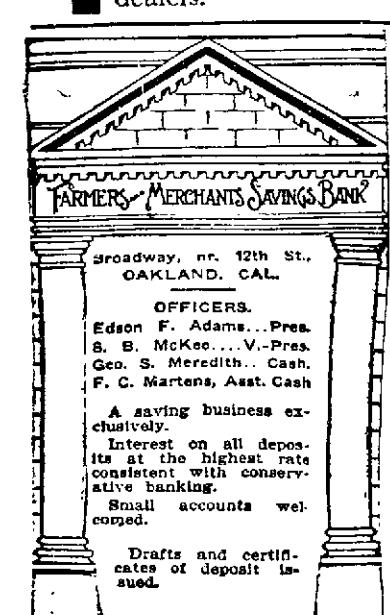

The line of beauty is a curve. Women may be thin and graceful, but not thin and beautiful. There is a vast number of pale, thin, scrawny people who are all brains and nerves, but without the strength and health that accompanies the standard weight. Good flesh and perfect health go together. A true flesh-forming food like Samsoe is absolutely necessary to many people.

No one can use this wonderful flesh-forming food for ten days without a noticeable gain in flesh and strength. Carefully kept statistics show that out of every hundred people who begin the use of Samsoe, 98 per cent increase in weight and their health and strength are restored.

Wishart has so much confidence in this remarkable flesh-forming food and health restorer that he is willing and glad to allow any customer to deposit $50 with him and take home a box of Samsoe, with the understanding that if it does not give a marked increase in good, firm flesh, the money will be returned without any questions. Postpaid on receipt of price, 50c.

SEEK TO BAR ALL ASIATIC RACES

State Federation of Labor to Endorse Amendment to Exclusion Law

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5.—The convention of the State Federation of Labor opened at Attorney Hall in this city at 10:30 o'clock this morning, and after the routine business of organization was finished a number of members presented resolutions which will come up for passage during the week.

Major M. J. Peletti welcomed the delegates. E. S. Rose of the local Chamber of Commerce followed with a short address. A. M. Thompson, president of the executive council, presided over the convention. W. French invited all to attend the industrial fair to be given at Central Park during Portola week. The funds raised will be used in creating a labor temple.

The following officers were elected: George A. Bell, secretary; Fred Smith of San Francisco, sergeant-at-arms; W. J. Atkinson of No. 38, Oakland, assistant sergeant-at-arms.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED. John Zamora, Bakers' Union, No. 29 of San Francisco, introduced a resolution expressing sympathy with the strikers in Sweden.

Tom C. Suman of Fresno denounced the fruit and raisin speculators and pledged union men to use only fruit and raisins bearing the Farm's Union label. Also "that terms of the Chinese Exclusion Act should be enlarged and extended so as permanently to exclude from the United States and its insular territories all races, natives of Asia, other than those exempted by the terms of the Exclusion Act, and that the resolution be submitted to Congress."

SPAIN MAY WAR UPON THE MOOR

Troops Being Dispatched to Africa and Martial Measures Taken

MADRID, Oct. 5.—The extension of the field operations in Africa, to which the government is now committed, by the dispatch of reinforcements to General Marnica, the Spanish commander, is further complicated by the possibility of regular declaration of war between Morocco and Spain.

While the Cortes is closed it becomes the duty of the council of state to authorize unforeseen expenditures and rumors are abroad today of dissensions in the council. It is understood the military party, the influence which is growing now, insists that the military efforts and sacrifices in Africa must be compensated by the permanent occupation of the Moroccan coast between Cape Tres Focas and Tetuan.

King Alfonso is disposed to sympathize with the claims of the militarists, but an unexpected obstacle has arisen in the council, where the four liberals who have been opposing the campaign in Morocco as a military adventure, have been joined by another liberal, creating a tie.

FLYING ROCK KNOCKS ENGINEER UNCONSCIOUS

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—While a Pennsylvania Railroad train was making 50 miles an hour with seven coaches of passengers, this city to Philadelphia, a pilot wheel of a locomotive picked up a rock from the stone-ballasted track and hit it through the cab window, the missile striking Engineer William Cooper on the head and knocking him unconscious.

The fire observed that the customary whistle had not sounded for the station at Rutherford and discovered the engineer lying on the floor of the cab. Leaping to the throttle, the fireman brought the speeding train to a quick stop at the Rutherford station, where the engineer was taken to a hospital. Another engineer was obtained and without the passengers knowing of their great danger, the train proceeded.

SHOOT DOWN RIOTERS IN SPANISH OUTRAGE

PARIS, Oct. 5.—A dispatch received here from Barcelona says the trials and executions of revolutionists have been resumed in that city. As an instance, it is declared that Ramon Clement was shot today against the wall of the Montjuic Fortress for rebellion, profanation of the bodies of convent sisters and setting fire to a factory in which several persons were asphyxiated.

The public prosecutor has appeared before a military court martial, demanding that several men accused of rebellion, insurrection and robbery be sentenced to death or to long terms of imprisonment.

HAS HAND CRUSHED. SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5.—Andy Larsen, an employee of the Young & Swain Baking Company, residing at 1115 Turk street, had his hand crushed in a roller early this morning and was treated at the Central Emergency hospital.

Drafts and certificates of deposit issued.

Native Sons Will Hold Memorial Services Next Sunday

IN MEMORY OF DEPARTED ONES

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5.—The yearly custom of holding services to rever the memory of departed members of the Native Sons of the Golden West, will be again fittingly observed by the local parlors on Sunday afternoon, October 10, at 2 p. m., at Temple Israel. An elaborate program has been arranged and the committee has spared no means to insure a success.

Grand President Hon. J. R. Knowland will deliver the memorial address and J. A. Bacigalupi will deliver the oration. A beautiful rendition of the funeral ritual will be an added attraction this year. The music will be under the guidance of Dr. H. J. Stewart.

The morning hours will be devoted to decorating the graves of departed brothers with the bear flag and California poppies. The services are invitation and a large gathering is anticipated.

The officers in charge are: President A. J. Rossi, Secretary George D. Burge and Treasurer E. E. Fisher.

CHINA'S NAVY TO BE MODERNIZED

It Will Be Enlarged and Officers Educated in Own Schools

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—As a humble beginning in the work of equipping China with a modern naval establishment, Prince Tsan Hsun and Admiral San, naval commissioners, have issued a number of general tasks according to advice just received in Washington, have taken steps to ascertain the number of existing men of war and vessels.

One of the first tasks is to procure a policy, it is said, of raising the necessary funds to enlarge the navy, of fostering naval education and inspecting the existing naval bases.

A movement is being organized to convert the Chinese naval academy in Canton into a marine engineering college and the naval college of Chih Chieh Foo into an imperial navigation college with an increase in the number of students.

DISCOVERY DAY TO BE OBSERVED AT SAN JOSE

SAN JOSE, Oct. 5.—Auxiliary Bishop O'Connell of San Francisco will represent Archbishop Blouin at the Columbus Day celebration to be held in this city October 12th. Bishop O'Connell will celebrate pontifical high mass at St. Joseph's Cathedral. This will be the first time that mass of this character has been celebrated in this state.

The Columbus Day celebration is being held under the auspices of the Italian section of the Knights of Columbus. Thousands of dollars have been raised to make the celebration a success.

A monster parade, with a dozen bands, floats and thousands of men and women wearing costumes appropriate to the occasion, will be one feature of the celebration. The evening will be devoted to a big Mardi Gras carnival. The city will be brilliantly illuminated.

AMBASSADOR REID IS HONORED WITH DEGREE

LONDON, Oct. 5.—Whitelaw Reid, the American Ambassador to Great Britain, went to Manchester today and received the honorary degree of LL. D. from the University of Manchester, at the hands of Viscount Morley, chancellor of the institution.

MORGAN MADE OFFER OF $5,000,000 FOR CASTLE

VENICE, Oct. 5.—J. Piermont Morgan is said to have expressed a desire to purchase the Reggia, at Mantua, formerly known as the Corte Reale, one of the most famous royal residences in all Europe.

Morgan is alleged to have offered $7,000,000 for this insignificant and ancient structure, a fabulous fortune in this country. But the Government holds Reggia as one of this kingdom's immunitary and royal, so it was impossible to accept the American's reputed offer.

ALL NEMO CORSETS AT $3.50 AND UPWARD ARE FINISHED WITH LASTIKOPS HOSE SUPPORTERS WHICH ARE GUARANTEED TO OUTWEAR ANY CORSET

Merit—Success

The Nemo Corset is the greatest success the corset-world has ever known. This success is based entirely upon merit—superiority.

The "Nemo Idea" was original—a distinct novelty. For the first time, the laws of Fashion were conformed to the laws of Hygiene.

NEMO SUCCESS IS NOT AN ACCIDENT

With the development of the "Nemo Idea," the corset has become a garment of health as well as of style; and this is not an accident, but the result of ingenious inventions made during years of study.

THERE'S NO SUBSTITUTE FOR NEMO CORSETS

Nemo Corsets render service that no other corsets can perform.

They are healthful and comfortable, because they are scientific in design; and durable, because material and making are superior.

The new Lastikops Hose Supporters have patented non-elastic top, and are guaranteed to outwear any corset. On all Nemos at $3.50 or more without extra charge.

"Back-Resting" Corset—$4.00 "It Rests Your Back"

For slender and medium figures; a marvel of ease, comfort and good style.

"Self-Reducing" "NEVER HAD A RIVAL"
